WORK EXPERIENCE

Automation Intern - Arch DevOps (December 2019 - January 2020)

- Worked with the President of the company to develop a tool that would connect with people on LinkedIn who liked a piece of content, that the user of the tool wasn't connected with yet. The goal was to help a user build a network of people based on who was engaging with the content, and create a network of people who are closer to a target market. The tool used a combination of the Ruby programming language and Watir (pronounced "water") for driving a web browser.

Social Media Management Intern - Arch DevOps (June 2020 - June 2020)

- Worked with the CTO of the company to publish and schedule a series of podcasts for The Hot Mic @ Arch DevOps. This is the company's official podcast. The role included bringing all uploads from Dropbox up to anchor.fm, entering the monetization segments, intro and outro segments, and scheduling episodes to be released each business day. From there, Arch DevOps was able to put in an appropriate title and description for each episode.
